Journal of Manufacturing and Operations Management

Contents for Volume 3

VOLUME 3 NUMBER 1 1990

Editorial 1

Stefanos A. Andreou
A Capital Budgeting Model for Product-Mix Flexibility 5

Gabriel R. Bitran and Stephen M. Gilbert
Sequencing Production on Parallel Machines with Two Magnitudes of Sequence-dependent Setup Cost 24

V. Sridharan and R. Lawrence LaForge
An Analysis of Alternative Policies to Achieve Schedule Stability 53

Forum
Donald Erlenkotter
The Library of Factory Management: A Diamond Jubilee Appreciation 74

Ford Whitman Harris and Harry Franklin Porter
Deciding Whether to Buy or to Make 78

VOLUME 3 NUMBER 2 1990

Gordon V. Shirley
Models for Managing the Redesign and Manufacture of Product Sets 85

Jose Ostolaza, John McClain, and Joseph Thomas
The Use of Dynamic (State-Dependent) Assembly-Line Balancing to Improve Throughput 105

Pierre Lefrançois, Marie-Claude Roy, and Gérald Gamache
Estimation of the Mean Flow Time in a Rolling-Mill Facility 134

Uday S. Karmarkar and Jeffrey L. Rummel
The Basis for Costs in Batching Decisions 153

VOLUME 3 NUMBER 3 1990

François M. Julien and Michael J. Magazine
Scheduling Customer Orders: An Alternative Production Scheduling Approach 177

Kenneth R. Baker, Stephen G. Powell, and David F. Pyke
Buffered and Unbuffered Assembly Systems with Variable Processing Times 200

Rui Alves
Performance Evaluation of Series-Parallel Systems 224

Forum
H.L. Gantt
The Relation Between Production and Costs 251

VOLUME 3 NUMBER 4 1990

Morris A. Cohen and Sanqwon Moon
Impact of Production Scale Economies, Manufacturing Complexity, and Transportation Costs on Supply Chain Facility Networks 269

J.E. Gibson and Nasr Mahmoud
The Moving Assembly Line: Real Labor Productivity Improvements Produced 293

Gustavo A. Vargas and Roger G. Dear
Buffering Against Multiple Uncertainty Sources in Assembly Manufacturing 309

Forum
Geoff Buxey
Computed-Assisted Design/Computer-Assisted Manufacturing (CAD–CAM) and the Competitive Edge 335
